Cheif Templar Little Arrived Last Night and Completed Arrangements.

Among the passengers who came in from the north on the M., K. & T. train at 7 o'clock last night was Mr. W. S. Little, of LaPlata, Mo., grand worthy chief templar of the Independent Order of Good Templars of Missouri.

He came on an important mission, viz—to see if satisfactory arrangements could be made to change the place of meeting of the grand lodge of the order from St. Louis to Sedalia.

Mr. Little was met at the depot by 'Squire A. D. Fisher, one of the most enthusiastic temperance advocates in Central Missouri, and after a brief discussion of the subject it terests of our citizens. I have adwas decided that the transfer would vised and consulted with our best be advisable if hotel and railroad citizens, both republicans and demrates could be secured for Sedalia the same as was given for St. Louis.

Chief Little was seen this morning by a DEMOCRAT reporter and Tuesday, October 17, and the session generally lasts three days.

"Recently, however, several members of the executive commitas the place of meeting.

we believe if the meeting is held contrary. here the attendance would be much larger than it would be in case we should meet in St. Louis.

"We generally have from 150 to 200 ladies and gentlemen present, and in case we meet here I believe the latter figure will be reached.

"The grand lodge has met here on two previous occasions, back in the 70s, and we have a kindly feeling for the city. Once we met in the Methodist church here and the other time at Smith's hall on Main street. 'Squire Fisher and I are going out to see what we can do in the way of railroad and hotel rates in a few minutes, and I think a decision regarding the contemplated change will be reached by noon."

Mr. Little was seen this afternoon and stated that it had been decided to hold the meeting in Sedalia instead of St. Louis, only the date would be changed from October 17 t o October 24.

A rate of one fare for the round trip will be secured, Mr. Little thinks, and a rate of $1.25 a day has been secured, for delegates at Sicher's hotel.

On the night of the second day of the session there will be a declamatory contest for a prize gold medal, and Mr. Little promises that Destructive Cyclone in Louisiana it will be an unusually interesting

An Attempted Robbery. An attempt was made to burglarize the residence of Mrs. Swan, No. 251 Boonville street, about 10:30 o'clock last night.

The lady heard some one at the kitchen window and called a gentleman named Rogers, who fired shot at the intruder, when he beat a hasty retreat.

London, Sept. 8.—In the house of commons yesterday afternoon,

Mr. Fowler, president of the local government board, announced a charwoman who had been employed in the house had died and under very suspicious circumstances. He was not prepared to say it was a case of cholera, but a most careful exami-

It is learned the doctor's examination leaves scarcely a doubt the woman died of Asiatic cholera.

THERE is going to be some building in Sedalia yet this fall and a great deal of it next spring.

It becomes every day more and more apparent that the late financial flurry was very largely a matter of scare.

THE DEMOCRAT earnestly desires to see public improvements undertaken and pushed forward as rapidly as the people are willing and able to pay for them.

Don't do your shopping in the make your purchases at home before you start and leave that much money in circulation.

THE laws of the land are the rules for the government of municipalities. Without them there is no safety for the taxpayer nor guarantee for the investor, beyond the mere judgment of the city officers.

THE DEMOCRAT is not a chronic kicker and does not desire a reputation of that kind, and for this reason it is gratifying to know that was received with great favor by many of the taxpayers of the city heartily endorse the position of this paper on the roller question.

Ir there were the slightest prospect that a single vote in the senate would be changed by the long and some excuse for it. But no vote will be changed. Only the country will be injured by the continued uncertainty.

A morning paper has a fancy story to the effect that Mayor Stevens is already a candidate for re-election. That the story is a work of fiction there is little doubt, for Mayor Stevens has stated most emphatically that he will not be a candidate for re-election and that he does not desire the office for another term.

August 30 was a panicky day for the Southern Pacific Railroad company. For months the ingenuity of Huntington and his right hand men has been taxed to make plans for the raising of money. What Causes Wrecks.

"Frequent changes in a railroad's organization will result in many disasters as a usual thing," said an astute general manager yesterday to a St. Louis reporter. "I don't know that that is the cause of the many catastrophes on the Big Four, but it probably is. When a rail road changes superintendents of divisions and they in turn change their subordinates, a loose organization is sure to result. Nearly all of the men are new, and for that reason they must be educated by experience rather than teaching. Experience is expensive on a railroad. I do not believe in radical sweeps of the coal.famine. when a road changes management. Many Concerns Resuming Work If changes must be made, let the work be done gradually.

Remarkable Decrease in Earnings The condition of Colorado railways is best shown by their financial statements. The Denver & Rio Grande, for instance, earned $469,300 in August, and in the same month a year ago the compasince July 1 have aggregated $948,-191, and that sum is $723,385 less than the earnings of the same pe riod last year. The Colorado lines have probably suffered more than lines in any other state, and the Rio Grande has probably suffered from the financial depression more

& A RAZOR SOUP REMEDY.

It Proves a Wonderful Cure for a Man

With Rheumatism. Wonders never cease, and, while poor, afflicted man is destined to grope his way through this world of pain and affliction, they will ever and anon rise up in his pathway to teach him the wondrous efficiency of the simplest remedies, over which, as it were, he has long stumbled in his vain search for relief from the ills to which

Mr. B. M. George, of Cuba, Ga., has for a long time been tortured by the pangs of rheumatism. Without any perceptible relief, he had well nigh exhausted the whole pharmacopæia of remedies, when, by some accidental train of thought, his mind was directed to the idea of trying the effect of pickled razors and files for his tormenting malady. Accordingly he looked about his premises and picked up all the old files he could find with here and there a razor blade. he carefully cleaned and immersed in strong vinegar. After a few days he began taking a small amount of the black mass, which he called razor soup, with marked improvement. He kept up this line of treatment, and, so far as the rheumatism is concerned, is a well man.

His Host's Cigars.

The prince of Wales not long ago was one of a large house party, his host being a very well-known peer. After dinner, the royal guest, the host, and the other male visitors repaired to the billiard-room. On a table at the side were two or three boxes of cigars, and the prince was helping himself to one, when an ambitious millionaire approached him, and taking from his pocket a cigarcase, held it out to the prince, saying: "I think, sir, you will find these better." "Mr. ---," replied the prince, if a man's dinner is good enough for me, his cigars are good enough for me." The millionaire was unexpectedly called away to town next morning on business.

How He Got Sumner's Autograph. A small boy once saw Charles Sumner's frank on a public document and, avaricious of autographs, straightway sat down and wrote to him, saying: 'By the aid of Webster's unabridged, the Latin and Greek lexicons, and the assistance of my high school teacher, I have made it out to be your name. If that is so, and you can do it again, please do it for me." The senator, amused by what the flippant in these days would call the gall of the youth, replied: "I am glad to learn that you have so many helps to education. It was my name.
